JOSEPH CUEVAS

C.A. RUSS III

Two former county supervisors have been indicted for embezzlement by the county grand jury.

Charles A. Russ III and Joseph Cuevas surrendered voluntarily Saturday morning to Sheriff Sylvan Ladner at the sheriff's office where they were booked on the charges and released on $2,000 property bond each.

Russ, 41, is charged with using a county employee and county equipment to dig a canal on his private property in Pearllington during October and November, 1971. The indictment alleges that Ole Eugene Moran, who testified before the grand jury, received his regular pay from the county for digging the canal and using a county drag line to perform the work. Russ was defeated in his bid for re-election as beat one supervisor in the Democratic primary elections.

Former beat three supervisor Joseph Cuevas, 45, is charged with authorizing $1,434.88 in county warrants to Benita Lee, a personal employee of Cuevas. The indictment also alleges that Cuevas required Lee to endorse the check to him (Cuevas). The county warrants were issued to Lee throughout 1971. Lee testified before the grand jury. Listed on both indictments as witnesses were Marie E. Quintini, former Hancock County Chancery Clerk and Ona Costello, bookkeeper in Miss Quintini's office. The two did not appear before the grand jury.

District attorney Albert Neale said that the two men would be arraigned during the July term of court.

HEARING SET
The Corps of Engineers has scheduled a public hearing for February 10 at 10 a. m. to discuss a proposal by Potomac Materials, Inc. to dredge dead shell reefs in Mississippi Sound. All interested parties are invited to attend the hearing which will be held in the Mississippi Power Company auditorium in Gulfport.

Democratic Convention

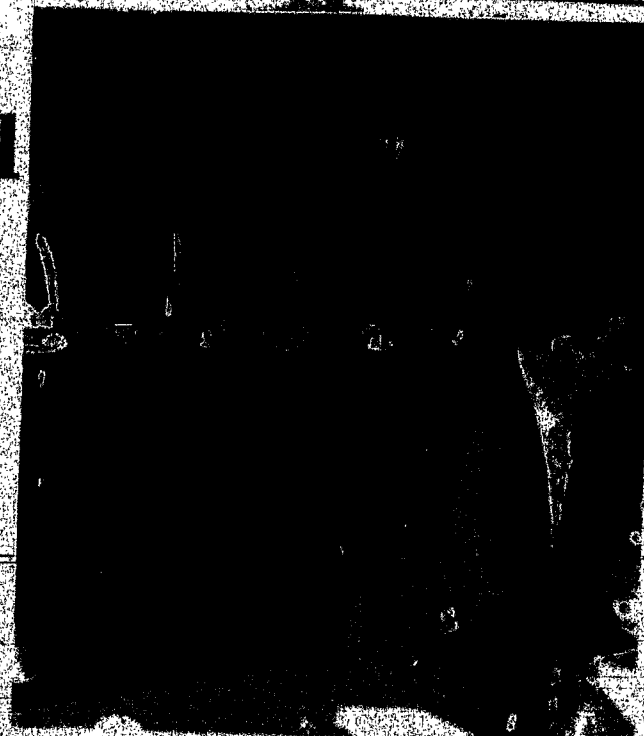

Hancock County Democratic Convention will be held February 11 at 10 a. m. at the courthouse in Bay St. Louis. At this time delegates will be elected to attend the district convention in Hattiesburg on February 19. President delegates must bring credentials to the county convention.

Citizens To Vote On GRD Proposal

In separate actions Monday, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Bay St. Louis city commission council decided to join the Gulf Regional District thus making the decision subject to a public referendum.

In the resolution adopted by the Bay council, the purpose of the affirmative vote was to allow the citizens to voice their opinions on the GRD. Commissioner William Frisbie voted against the measure because he said, "I am in favor of allowing the people to vote on it but I am strongly opposed to the GRD and feel that my vote should reflect that feeling." Commissioner Andre Arceneaux who is also opposed to the Gulf Regional District emphasized that he voted in favor of the resolution in order to bring it before the people. Mayor Warren Carver said that he would like to see Bay St. Louis join the District and voted in favor of the resolution.

By a three-to-two vote of the supervisors, the board declared its intention to join the GRD. Beat one supervisor Jerry Ladner said that he did so only to bring the resolution before the people. Supervisors Herbert Zengering and James Travica also cast affirmative votes but Travica said he was not fully informed on the District proposal but felt it should be left up to the people. Board president Dolph Kellar and Supervisor Oscar Peterson voted against the proposal.

CONVIVIALITY AND COFFEE are shared by participants in the Joyce-sponsored Prayer Breakfast last Saturday morning at Wheel Inn. County officials, both city mayors, councilmen and a number of clergymen joined Joyce and area merchants for breakfast and a talk by Bro. Pierre St. Pierre to this event encouraged Joyce to consider making it a regularly scheduled activity.

Supervisors Discuss Retirement Age

Eligibility for retirement benefits for persons over 65 years old was discussed by county supervisors at a meeting Monday.

Chancery clerk John Rutherford said that according to state law, a man cannot be retired as a county employee past the age of 70. From the age of 65 to the mandatory retirement age of 70, he said a person may work as a city or county employee on a year-to-year basis. Rutherford referred to an informational brochure published by the Public Employees Retirement System of Miss. which states in part: "employees may NOT enter membership in the system (Public Employees Retirement System) who do not receive approval for continuance in state service after attaining the age of 65 years or who attain mandatory retirement age of 70 years."

The discussion came as a result of a number of complaints filed with the board from county employees charged with illegibility for retirement compensation past the age of 70 years. Rutherford said the public should be made aware of the fact that this is a state law, not a county edict or ruling.

Under the present system of the Peace, are covered by the retirement annuity system but constables are not, although Rutherford said it was his understanding that constables can be covered if they wish to pay their own retirement system fee.

Because of the fee system under which Peace Justices and constables formerly worked, it was impossible for the county to set any firm income figure on which to base a retirement percentage. A discussion ensued on the feasibility of attempting to set a retirement plan for county employees in the above two categories, under county jurisdiction. The board agreed to further investigate the possibilities of such a plan.

A report on the progress of implementation of the food stamp program was presented by supervisor James Travica, chairman and coordinator of future plans for the multi-million dollar development. welfare director Mrs. Victor Phillips is an attorney for the Franklinville. Travica said he and Miss. Sen. C. C. Lawrence had moved food stamp offices in Harrison and Jackson counties last Thursday for an inspection of their system of operation of the food stamp program. Rutherford reaffirmed to the board that the county had to date met all requirements of the state for setting up the program.

In another matter, a letter was read from State Aid Division engineer Frank Moore regarding termination of the contract with Burke and Assoc., formerly retained by the county as county engineer. Moore referred to a verbal agreement by Burke to waive a 30-day notification of contract termination, but asked that the board obtain a written waiver for the records. Board president Dolph Kellar said he wanted to avoid an on-call of engineer's services as the board has already officially retained Lawrence Seal of Poytress as county engineer.

In a letter dated January 18, 1972, Burke agreed to complete final inspection of contractual projects now underway in the county, with the exception of the Caesar-Nedra Road. The letter also submitted a final fee claim for engineer's services, but did not include a written waiver of the 30-day termination notice. Under state aid division regulations, the county is responsible for payment of engineer's fees, then requests reimbursement from the state aid office. According to Don Murray, assistant county engineer, there is an approximate $10,000 balance for engineer's fees on the Lakeshore Road project. Fees were based on a percentage of project costs.

Attorney Walter Phillips extended an invitation to supervisors for a tour and dinner at Diamondhead as guests of the corporation on Tuesday at 5 p. m. Phillips said the invitation includes supervisors' wives as well as County Planning Commission members and their wives to better acquaint county officials with chairman and coordinator of future plans for the multi-million dollar development. Phillips is an attorney for the Diamondhead corporation. A decision on whether or not to enter the Gulf Planning District was tabled for action in the afternoon session.

A letter from Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver to county supervisors regarding rip rap from the demolition of St. Stanislaus buildings, expressed "concern about rumors that this rip rap is to be moved to the Clermont Harbor area." Bay city and Uptown officials had discussed with the St. Stanislaus demolition contractor the possibility of using the rip rap for rehabilitation of the American Legion pier.

Beat one supervisor Jerry Ladner expressed a desire to have the waste material available for use in beach development in the Clermont Harbor area, but assistant county engineer Don Murray said that the disposition of the rip rap is up to the county engineer and the contractor, before any firm decisions can be made by city or county officials.

Women Promote Pride

National Cleanup Award Goes To Bay St. Louis

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

The perseverance and tenacity of four housewives brought national honors to Bay St. Louis Friday when the city received the 1971 national competition award by the National Cleanup, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Bureau.

Miner H.L. Robinson, P.J. Benvenuti, Paul Vegas and William Hilliker are all contrary to the Women's Lib contention that a housebound wife and mother, exploited by the chauvinistic male world, never accomplished anything.

The award was the culmination of a cleanup drive that the four women began in the spring of 1970, following the devastation of hurricane Camille. Distressed by garbage and trash littering the streets and highways, and the generally neglected appearance of the town, the four ladies launched a personal cleanup program.

Bay St. Louis residents were often startled to see four attractive ladies, one seven months pregnant and another accompanied by her four-year-old son, picking up litter along the highway and streets. They appealed to local civic groups and merchants for cooperative efforts to upgrade the city's appearance. In the fall, they were appointed by city fathers as an official Cleanup & Beautification Committee.

Still as a volunteer team, they launched a massive city-wide Fall Cleanup Campaign, that eventually spread to cover the county. Everybody got in the act, as with arduous persuasion the committee of four led city police and fire departments, the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, churches, an army of school students and teachers, and most of the business firms in town on a month-long community face-lift.

The drive was effective and successful. Inspired by citizens' response and the city's improvement, they kicked off another campaign in the spring of 1971. In between campaigns, they addressed groups, clubs and neighborhood committees. They organized poster and essay contests in the elementary schools and started a Home of the Week contest.

Some months ago, the Committee began a monthly cleanup newsletter which is mailed to a lengthy list of businesses, organizations and individuals.

Throughout the two years, they have never stopped their individual efforts at keeping their city clean.

Each is from the prototype one would expect of a crusading female who could change the face of a city of 7,000 winning

Unity Emphasized At Prayer Breakfast

County and city officials, as well as both mayors joined area merchants and clergy for a Prayer Breakfast Saturday morning at Scaffid's Wheel Inn restaurant.

The well-attended affair was sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Jaycees in an attempt to bring together the community and among citizens of the county. Br. Pierre St. Pierre, clergy addressed the gathering following the breakfast and told listeners that unity among leaders is the main thing that the youth of the community is looking for. As president of St. Stanislaus School, Br. Pierre said in his years of dealing with countless boys, he often asks what they are looking for in leaders and the answer invariably is "people who will listen...and who will give us national recognition in the process.

Each maintains her own home, has several children and one is a grandmother. They are all attractive, feminine, civic minded and "have only this one thing in common," according to Betty Benvenuti.

And they are now in the process of planning another Spring Cleanup and Beautification Drive.

something to stay here for".

Br. Pierre referred to the Jaycees creed as an excellent principle for all people to live by and urged those attending to give particular thought to a line which states "that the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations." He said that the Jaycees are the people who are making the difference in the world.

Fr. Harner of St. Rose de Lima Church gave the closing invocation. Jaycee Bob Boudin said that attendance at the breakfast was encouraging and that the organization is considering the possibility of monthly prayer breakfasts. Although the breakfast was supposed to be on a "dutch treat" basis, E.J. Marengo of Coastal Insurance Agency provided and unexpected treat when he picked up the tab for the entire gathering.

County Grand Jury Report

We, the Grand Jury, having been duly empaneled, sworn and charged at the January 1972 term, now beg leave to submit this our final report.

We have been in session for 10 days, during which time we have considered 35 cases, examined 72 witnesses, and returned 23 indictments.

COURTHOUSE INSPECTION
We have made an inspection of the Hancock County Courthouse, we find the courthouse to be in pretty good condition, with the exception of windows in the court room that need repairs, so they can be opened, and panes replaced. The rest of the facilities are in bad need of cleaning and repair. The general condition of the Court House is dirty, the use of soap and water would greatly improve the interior appearance. The rest rooms need to be marked male or female. We further recommend that an effort be made to give the sheriff facilities in the Court House. We believe that the Tax Assessor's Office can be combined with the Tax Collectors office and give the tax assessor's office to the sheriff's department, as the sheriff's office can be in one location. We further recommend the purchase of a safe for the Sheriff's Department for the safe-keeping of bonds, securities and records.

THE JAIL

We the grand jury have inspected the jail and find the jail in fair condition with needed repairs to window panes and screens.

THE YOUTH DETENTION CENTER

We have inspected the Youth Detention Center and find it in good condition, but the Sheriff should be moved out of these facilities. The bars on this center need to be secured on the windows.

THE PORT AND HARBOR DEVELOPMENT

We have inspected the Port and Harbor Commission Development. We, the grand jury believe this development is progressing very slowly in regard to getting industry into this area. We further recommend the employment of local people in every phase where possible.

THE COUNTY HOME

We have inspected the County Home and find that the County Home is in excellent condition and Mr. and Mrs. Fricke are to be commended on the operation of this fine center for the aged of Hancock County.

THE HOSPITAL

We have inspected the Hancock General Hospital and find the hospital to be in very good condition with the exception of a small leak over the dining room and the need for a new X-Ray Machine. We further recommend that Dunbar Avenue from Highway 90 to the hospital be widened due to the congestion at school time, which greatly impedes the flow of traffic and is almost impossible for emergency vehicles to reach the hospital.

This grand jury recommends that school buses not be allowed to cross the Rotten Bayou Bridge on the Kill-De-Lislee Road until this bridge is certified safe for loads over five tons.

We, the Grand Jury, do hereby request a Federal investigation into the possible misuse of Federal funds in Hancock County since Hurricane Camille.

We the grand jury recommend and request that an immediate State Audit and investigation be made into the possible misuse of County funds.

We the grand jury do hereby request that our recommendations be regarded with the seriousness that this grand jury has spent much time and effort into this report and investigation and ask for action to be taken to implement our recommendations.

We further recommend that investigation be made into the missing machine gun in the Sheriff's office.

We also recommend that the payment of a rental fee for a parking lot be discontinued as it is not accessible for parking.

We further recommend the publishing of the Minutes of the Board of Supervisors for the month in which they are acted on.

We also recommend that parking, available on the Courthouse grounds, be organized for better use by the public with business at the Courthouse, and that additional parking facilities be badly needed.

We, the grand jury, wish to thank your Honor for your able charge at the time we were empaneled and for your instructions as to the laws of the state which you so kindly read to us at our empanelment.

We wish to express our appreciation to Mr. Fricke, Otto and his staff for the preparation of the "docket" and for his assistance to us. We also wish to thank the district attorney, Albert Necaise, and his assistant, Norman Brendal, for assisting us during our deliberations.

We have served as grand jurors and recommend to all citizens that they participate when they are called upon to serve as jurors.

We also recommend better facilities for the grand jury as the room now used is too small without proper ventilation.

And now having concluded our labors, we beg to be dismissed finally.

This the 26th day of January, A.D. 1972.

Respectfully submitted, John Howard Ginn, Foreman

Homes Entered; Investigation Underway

Three homes near Blue Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis were broken into during the last two days according to Sylvan Ladner, Hancock County Sheriff.

Sheriff.

Ladner reported that he received a call at 3 p.m. Tuesday reporting a burglary at the residence of Ferris E. Tate of Poycune, Miss., off Blue Meadow Road on the Jordan River. Locks had been broken on the front door, a back shed, the boat house and the boat cabin. The owners reported, however, that nothing was missing from the house. Officers recovered an abandoned 12 ft. fiberglass boat and a ten-hp. motor tied to Tate's wharf. Upon further investigation, police discovered that the home next to Tate's had been broken into but nothing was missing. The home belonged to John McDonald of Bay St. Louis. Sheriff's deputies aiding Ladner in the investigation were Ronald Peterson, James Ladner and Lathan Garriga.

Wednesday morning, the Sheriff's Department received a call from a resident of Bay St. Louis whose residence is located about one mile from Tate's home. The front door had been forced open and burglars had taken the keys to Stewart's boat house. Missing was a 14 ft. Montair double-ended aluminum hull with a 9 and one-half h.p. Evinrude motor, a 22 caliber Remington automatic rifle, two bottles of liquor and a man's black quilted jacket. Ladner said that a yellow man's jacket probably belonging to a young adult was left in the Stewart home. Assisting in the investigation are Peterson, Garriga and Fairley Necaise.

Scouts Schedule Celebration

Joining with partner organizations that use the program of the Boy Scouts of America, the New Orleans Area Council began a monthlong 62nd Anniversary Celebration on February 1.

There are over four hundred religious, educational, civic, and industrial groups that sponsor 650 Cub Scout Packs, Scout Troops, and Explorer Units in 11 Louisiana parishes and Hancock County. In addition, there are 100 Scouters in the area.

All Scout Units are planning a rededication ceremony for every registered member to assemble on the evening of Anniversary Day, February 8, Scouting's official birthday, and recommit himself to the Scout Oath and Law.

The second year of Project SOAR (Save Our America Resources), the national conservation Good Turn, will be emphasized in February in preparation for the big events to follow and recognition in October.

A special emphasis during the Anniversary Celebration of the Boy Scouts of America is "to deeply involve" boys in their schools, church, and community.

Scout Executive Hoyt Hunt stated that nationwide use of Project SOAR is a major objective of the BSA. A pilot project is scheduled for early 1972. Pilot projects gave ample proof that the BSA can make a contribution to the drug abuse program because of the tremendous resources of people and program which, if properly applied, can contribute materially toward its ultimate solution.

The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars. Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office... he helps everybody with their return... what did Frank recommend?

If there's some way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and standard deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other amateur), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 8,000 convenient local offices.

Right now, H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you've never knew existed. Things that we know, because income tax returns are our only business.

Report from capitol

WASHINGTON, D.C. Senator John C. Stennis (D. Miss.) said this week the new Federal Budget request contains large amounts of money for needed programs and projects in Mississippi.

Stennis, Chairman of the Senate Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee, promised that the administration's requests for funding projects in Mississippi would receive "prompt attention and every favorable consideration before his subcommittee."

Many of the flood control activities and waterways development projects planned and carried out by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers must be approved by the subcommittee headed by the Mississippi Senator.

Stennis released a partial list of items in the Fiscal Year 1973 Budget request affecting

Mississippi:

- $12 million for construction of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.
- $3,504,000 to complete construction of Yellow Creek Port.
- $1.5 million for construction of the Natchez Trace Parkway.
- $1.5 million for flood control construction on the Tombigbee River and Tributaries.
- $85,000 for survey and planning of flood control projects on the Tombigbee River and Tributaries.
- $400,000 for advance engineering and design of the Tallahala Creek Reservoir in Jasper and Jones Counties.
- $542,000 for operation and maintenance of Pascagoula Harbor.
- $30,000 for survey and planning investigations of possible improvements of Pascagoula Harbor.
- $200,000 for operation and maintenance of Okatibbea Lake.

- $40,000 for a study of beach erosion control needs in Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson Counties.
- $750,000 for operation and maintenance of Gulfport Harbor.
- $220,000 for operation and maintenance of Biloxi Harbor.
- $50,000 for general surveys, planning, and studies of Vicksburg Harbor.
- $10,448,000 for operation and maintenance and construction of flood control facilities in the Yazoo River Basin.
- $400,000 for design and initiation of construction of facilities at the Vicksburg Waterways Experiment Station.
- $250,000 for design and construction of revetment warehouse, Vicksburg Engineers District.
- $600,000 for continuation of construction of mat-making barge, Vicksburg Engineers District.
- $177,000 for outpatient care facilities, Indian Health Services.

Stennis reported that $7.6 million is included in the budget request as Mississippi's probable share of funds to be made available through the Appalachian Development Program. This includes $1.3 million for highways; $2.8 million for health demonstrations; $1.2 million for vocational education; $2.3 million for supplemental grants; and $2 million for support of local development districts.

The Atomic Energy Commission is requesting $63,000 for operating expenses in Mississippi. This includes $19,000 for physical research and $44,000 for biology and medicine.

The Tennessee Valley Authority is requesting a total of $22.6 million for projects in Mississippi. These include the construction of money for the Yellow Creek Port, $14 million for Transmission System facilities, $4 million for power

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

City-County Library Writer

In our search for historical material of interest to Gulf Coast people we recently came upon an old book so crammed with data about people and places from Waveland to Mobile that once you start reading it you'll find it hard to stop. It is "Along the Gulf" by Charles I. Dyer, published about 1884.

Your City-County Library has two copies of this rare work and we strongly recommend that anyone who wants to find out about the life and the prominent people in the Coast towns at that time should borrow one of these books. As an example of its interest to old timers, we happened to show the book recently to Mayor Lader of Waveland and then had trouble getting it away from him. It is profusely illustrated with photographs of old residences and business places, most of which are no longer standing, many having been but recently destroyed by Camille.

This is a book crammed full of interesting sidelights on the men and women who founded the towns along the coast and how they carried on life a hundred years ago. Even the young people of today will be interested in seeing what the places with which they are familiar looked like long before they were born and how their ancestors lived and conducted themselves long before modern improvements obliterated that way of life. Written on the spot during first-hand observations (the very style of writing, so flowery and full of grace, is itself a relic of old-fashioned composition) the word sketches recreate reality as if one were there in person.

"Along the Gulf" is just another example of the interesting and educational items with which the "Library abounds. Crime and 'who-does-it' stories are fine for killing time, but they leave the reader with nothing, whereas the adventures of people who actually lived and hoped and strove to accomplish the tasks that built up our community are of vastly more importance and value than the impossible adventures of a phony detective. And if you feel impelled to do some sleuthing, try running down the facts about some local tradition, such as the so-called Pirate House here at home. Excitement? Try reading about the riot when conditions were forced to leave his plantation at Laurel Wood, or the bar-burnings and under-cover snailings when Union soldiers raided some of the farms and dwellings on this part of the Coast.

Your library is like a gold mine, just waiting to be discovered and drained of its riches.

Forestry Report

Yard trees are an important feature of home landscaping. In fact, trees may be the most expensive items on your lawn. Even with a tree you get in the woods at no initial cost, there is the element of time which adds to the tree's value.

Trees require some care, such as proper planting, fertilizing, watering, pruning, and protection. However, in return for a comparatively small amount of your attention, they add significantly to the beauty of a home. The shade furnished is certainly pleasant and is a definite economic asset during summer when air conditioning is used in the home.

Proper planting is very important to give the tree a good start. The hole you dig should be larger than just barely enough to "crum" in the roots, as they will straighten out more with time. Balled and burlapped trees need a hole one to two feet larger than the ball. The hole should be deep enough for the tree to stand at approximately the same level as it was in the woods or nursery.

Poor soil should be improved with top soil or peat moss for better results. A slight depression around each tree will aid in watering. Some trees need to be staked for proper growth. This is best done by using two stakes on the same side of the tree, one at the base of the trunk and one at the base of the main trunk. Do not use a single stake on the opposite side of the trunk, as this will pull the tree over.

An American Bar Association public service feature by William H. Bennett.

In the center of the Emilion area, Yavapai County, Arizona, is a small town called "The Hole." It is a place where the land is so dry that the only way to get water is to dig a hole. The hole is so deep that it takes a long time to dig. The people of "The Hole" have learned to live with the dry land. They have learned to dig holes and to wait for the water to come. They have learned to be patient and to be happy with what they have.

Trumpets In The Morning

by Perry D. Neal, Pastor
First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis

Co-creators with God
"Behold I have given you" (Gen. 1:28)
"To dress it and to keep it" (Gen. 2:15)
"We are laborers together with God" (1 Cor. 3:9)

There are some things we cannot do. God has reserved these for Himself. But there are things we can do. An old trueness, "God will not do anything for us that we can do for ourselves." A discouraged and slightly critical man complained, "This is a terrible world. I could have made a better one myself." His friend replied, "That's what God wants you to do. Make this one better. Let's get busy with the job."

There are many undeveloped resources in our world. As the population grows, we must harness the powers of the universe to make our land more livable. God has given us the raw materials. We must devise means for turning them into finished products. It is our privilege and duty to keep God's world as good as He made it. The problem of ecology is essentially a theological problem.

REDUCING AFTER PLANTING LOSSES OF TREES AND SHRUBS

If you have lost ball and burlap or container trees and shrubs after you planted them, you may find it useful to evaluate why the material died, and plan to prevent these losses in the future.

Causes of post-planting losses include planting too deep, girdling root damage, insect infestation, damaged or dry ball, inadequate plant preparation, uncut burlap or twine and not removing stakes or collars.

Some of the more common problems noted this past year have been girdling roots, insect infestation, damaged or dry ball, inadequate plant preparation, uncut burlap or twine and not removing stakes or collars.

The second step is to prepare a proper planting site. To do this, make a hole 1 1/2 times larger than the ball. If you dig the hole with an auger, make sure side walls are not smooth and polished. Incorporate organic material in heavy clay soils. Add water before placing the stock in the hole.

Next comes preparing the plant. Make vertical cuts along the sides of container grown soil balls to encourage rooting and prevent girdling the root. Cut all twine and burlap, plastic or not but do not remove burlap. Examine base of stem for girdling roots. Cut if necessary.

The final three steps toward preventing loss of your trees and shrubs are to stake if necessary and water well after planting, arrange for follow up fertilization and watering, and remove all stakes and collars after planting are established.

If you follow these rules, you should be able to reduce your plant losses. You can reduce even secondary insect infestation through proper planting and maintenance.

FATHER TO THE RESCUE

Suppose a man sees his son being beaten up by the neighborhood bully. Does he have a legal right to use force in his son's defense?

He does indeed. Father to the right of self defense is the right to defend the members of one's family with force if used by the justice goes all the way back to the days of Noah when the master of the household was legally entitled to protect his family from attack.

But in such situations, there is always the chance of escalating the violence. Therefore, the law places careful limits on this right of family defense.

First, the force used must not be excessive. Second, the force must be necessary to protect the family. Third, the force must be used only to defend the family.

Social Security Information

Close to 30 million women are earning social security protection for themselves and their families through their own work, according to Gwendolyn L. Dunlap, representative of the Gulfport social security office.

"The working woman has both disability and survivors protection," Mrs. Dunlap said. "If she becomes unable to work for a year or longer because of a disabling accident or severe illness, she and her dependents may be eligible for monthly cash payments from social security."

In some cases, social security helps pay the costs of services from a State rehabilitation agency. So, she might also be eligible to get help in getting back on her feet and returning to work, Mrs. Dunlap said.

If a working woman dies prematurely, monthly cash payments from social security can help her children through school (until they're 22, if they remain full-time students and unmarried).

"If a working woman's husband is 62 or older and dependent upon her for his support, he also can be eligible for monthly social security payments on her work record," Mrs. Dunlap said.

"Even though her husband may be working at a full-time job, her children are still eligible for benefits on her work record; the district manager noted.

On her own work record, the working woman can retire at 62 with reduced monthly cash payments. Or she can wait until she's 65 and get full monthly cash benefits, Mrs. Dunlap said. But, if she could collect higher benefits as a wife on her husband's record, she can choose to collect the higher payment.

ability and eloquent expression to inform the voting public of all aspects, both favorable and unfavorable, without partiality or bias.

If our grass roots hard working citizens would become more vociferous and less apathetic, over the dazzling pseudo utopia, a certain business and professional clique, propose to over burden the already heavily taxed citizens, will successfully halt the insidious machinations of a glory hungry power structure.

We may not realize, that as individuals, we are losing our rights guaranteed by our Constitution. The various commissions, committees and assistants, connected with government work, overwhelm and oppress the "Puppets on a String" which we the people are being placed.

Eleanor Everett McFie

Dear Sir:
Congratulations! on your Editorial, "To Join, Or Not To Join," so glad you have the deep wisdom to see its future potential for hitting the taxpayers, especially property owners. There are others too, who agree with you, however we have come to the conclusion, the vote count will always be in favor of the project, the politicians endorse, just like in all other cases, ultimately affect the home owner taxpayers; when these tax victims have to dig into their fixed budgets to meet these added financial burdens, the griping and bemoaning grows loudest. Then it is too late. The time to protest is now, before the tentacles tighten.

We need people of your status,

Special Projects Planned By Citizens

A second meeting of the Bay St. Louis Citizens Involvement Committee was held recently at which committee officers and community project chairmen were named.

Attending with Committee members were Mayor Warren Carver, Felix Seeger, city superintendent of public grounds and Bunk Gardner, city program director and secretary pro tempore for the Committee.

Mr. Gardner outlined the recommendations of the nominating committee officers, and the floor was then opened for other nominations and the election held. The following were elected to serve Charles Carter, Sr., Chairman; John Wallace, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Waldo Dearing, Secretary; Sheldon Seuzeneau II, Project Chairman; Mrs. Carol Vegas, Project Chairman.

Mayor Carver explained that one of the crucial functions of this committee is to advise and assist the Mayor and the Council in making decisions for the community. He stated that he was interested in giving the public more of a voice in city government, as the responsibility is too great for only three administrators.

Gardner introduced Felix Seeger who spoke of his activities in behalf of city cleanliness and beautification and solicited the advice council and help of this committee.

DEMO OFFICERS
Members of the County Democratic Convention met briefly Saturday morning at the Court House during which city commissioner William Frisbie was elected temporary chairman and Bert Scheffel of Waveland, temporary secretary of the convention.

BAND BOOSTERS
Bay Senior High Tiger Band Boosters will meet Monday night at 7:30 p.m. at the band room in Bay Junior High School.

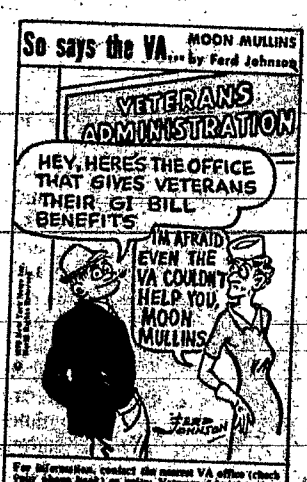

Seuzeneau, the group adjourned for a week, and planned to meet again at the Court House Saturday.

The floor was then opened for general informal discussion of city problems and possible projects for our committee.

A fire at Cathay Wholesale Co. at 301 28th St. set off the automatic sprinkler system which kept the blaze under control until firemen arrived about 3:55 p.m. Friday.

Firemen said the carpet and tile-laying business suffered only minor damage to the building, but that smoke and water caused more than $1,000 damage to carpet and other items in the building.

A fire department spokesman said it appeared that solvents and adhesives stored on some shelves ignited spontaneously, setting off the sprinkler system.

SPACE AERONAUTICS

LOOKING FOR ANSWERS

WASHINGTON - If it's possible to send a man to the Moon then certainly it must be possible to solve a myriad of lesser problems.

Space scientists and engineers ask themselves this question every day. After all, to get a man to the Moon was not the solution to a single problem, but the solution to literally thousands of problems before Neil Armstrong touched down on the lunar surface, July 20, 1969.

This kind of success in space-age engineering and science tends to encourage and stimulate those who achieved it to seek solutions to other, frequently more earthly problems.

Here are but a few of the more interesting problems for which the space agency is currently seeking solutions:

Can a thin, flexible material be devised for use in connecting an electronically-controlled artificial eye system with the human brain. Somewhere in the vast amount of technology NASA has developed there may well be an answer or the clue to an answer for this problem.

Dedicated researchers working in the areas of cancer prevention and detection are looking for a means to discover how sensory impulses are transferred within a single cell? Such information is needed to develop a model of such phenomena to simplify the basic medical research in such areas as cancer research. Perhaps NASA has or can make a contribution in this area. At any rate, NASA is concerned enough to be looking into it. NASA has in fact, done considerable work in cancer research.

Sulfuric acid is a highly visible air pollutant. It is the end product of many industrial exhausts. A need for removing sulfuric acid mist from a gas stream is needed. Conceivably NASA, with vast experience in a variety of liquids and gases, can find a solution to this vexing problem.

A NASA scientist who wants to take a crack at these problems can get more detail by asking his technology utilization officer for an abstract of the problem or calling the TV officer if he has a solution to offer.

This whole exercise—technology utilization—is NASA's process for identifying techniques, processes, solutions, new materials which have application for the public sector and then "transferring" this data so that it can be applied for the benefit of mankind. This, in some areas, has come to be known as space spin-off. And there's a lot more of it than meets the eye.

NASA'S LIFESAVER

Mississippi Ed Smylie was primarily responsible for rigging the make-shift oxygen system that saved the lives of the three Apollo 13 astronauts in April, 1970. After an explosion disabled the craft's oxygen system, carbon dioxide built up in the lunar module. The three astronauts were living on a breathing system designed to sustain only two. The oxygen on the spacecraft was Smylie's specialty and it was up to him to solve the problem. The system he devised succeeded in saving the lives of the men and Smylie was singled out, along with the assistant chief for commendation by the President. Source: Dixie Hoto Magazine. Released by the Mississippi Economic Council.

NURSERIES

Located on the northern edge of Mississippi's piney woods region, in Wayne County, is one of the world's largest tree nurseries. It is the Wayne County Nursery of the Mississippi State Forestry Commission. It contains 160 acres and has a production capacity of 80 million pine seedlings annually. Legislative Report

by EARL "BUCK" LADNER

STATE REPRESENTATIVE
HANCOCK COUNTY

The action of the State Legislature on the floor of the House this past week was comparatively slow but the committees began to put in long hours. The action of the committees should speed up floor activities this coming week.

In addition to the committee assignments I announced last week I have been placed on the Penitentiary Sub-Committee which will be concerned with security and inmate appraisal.

I would like to thank everyone who took time to visit with me at the Ramada Inn last Saturday morning.

On Saturday, Feb. 7, from 1 to 2 p. m., I will be at Scandia's Wheel Inn Restaurant. I will have with me a copy of upcoming legislation and would like to get your views on these matters.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO BORROW FUNDS
There also came to be considered the matter of borrowing $48,000.00 in anticipation of taxes as authorized by Section 2226-13 of the Mississippi Code of 1942 as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 479, Laws of 1971, whereupon Supervisor Travica moved the adoption of the following resolution:
WHEREAS, Hancock County does not have on hand sufficient funds in the General Fund of the County necessary for the purpose of defraying the current expenses of the County chargeable to General Fund revenues; and
WHEREAS, there is currently a deficit in said General Fund account in the amount of $48,888.27 and it is necessary and in the best interest of the County that funds be borrowed in anticipation of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levies for the General Fund of said County; and
WHEREAS, the total estimated assessed valuation of all ad valorem property of said County for the year 1971 is in the amount of $26,631,690.00, and
WHEREAS, the total millage of said County for General Fund purposes is 7 mills, and therefore, the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levy or levies for General Fund purposes is in the sum of $186,421.83; and
WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors does now find and determine that there may be borrowed for General Fund purposes under Section 2226-13 of the Mississippi Code of 1942 as last amended by Section 2 of Chapter 479, Laws of 1971, the amount of $48,000.00, a sum not in excess of twenty-five percent of the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levy for General Fund purposes; and
WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors is authorized and empowered and does now find and determine that it is necessary to borrow the sum of $48,000.00 for the purpose of defraying the General Fund expenditures of said County;
THEREFORE, it is now found and determined that the Hancock Bank, a banking corporation of the State of Mississippi, has agreed to loan the sum of $48,000.00 and to accept the negotiable notes of the County, which said notes shall mature not later than April 1, 1973, the year succeeding the year in which said notes are issued; and
WHEREAS, the sum of $48,000.00 so borrowed shall not be in excess of twenty-five percent (25%) of the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levies of the General Fund of said County, the fund for which said money is borrowed; and
WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors does now find and determine that it is not necessary to pledge the levy of a special tax in order to repay the amount of the money borrowed for the use of the General Fund of the County but does now find and determine that the regular levy will be sufficient for the repayment of said loan with interest and that there should be pledged out of the first money collected from taxes for the year in which said notes are issued the amount of $48,000.00 for the purpose of repayment of said notes.

until the end of the 18th century, there were any significant changes in attitude toward mental problems. At this time, during the French Revolution, Philippe Pinel, with the support of revolutionary leaders, ordered shackles and chains removed from the mentally ill in prisons. In the early days of the United States, the mentally ill were treated with a variety of ways in their communities; some were housed off as farm laborers, some were driven from town or village as witches, and some were placed in poorhouses. Toward the 19th century, Dorothea Dix, a Massachusetts teacher, began a campaign to improve treatment of the mentally ill. Through her efforts, some improvements were made, including the establishment of more humane state hospitals; however, the isolated nature of these institutions and some equally serious problems remained. Families were inclined to abandon patients, and much more difficult work was to wait and eventually

Marine Center Gets Administration Grant

A $314,000 National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration grant to the Universities Marine Center in Ocean Springs, Miss., revealed this week by the U.S. Department of Commerce, is expected to launch an unparalleled program of marine development on the Gulf Coast.

Authorities have pointed out that the program's objective is "the intelligent exploitation of the marine resources balanced by the conservation of the marine environment."

The Universities Marine Center, established in 1970 by the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning, is a consortium formed by the University of Mississippi, Mississippi State University, the University of Southern Mississippi, and the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

Under terms of the $314,000 Sea Grant Award, matching funds of $128,000 will be provided by the Mississippi Marine Resources Council. Funding period will extend through October, 1972.

Dr. Joseph Sam, dean of the Graduate School at Ole Miss and the University's representative to the Center, said the program is oriented toward "providing technical data and recommendations based on such data to agencies and public officials of the state."

"Complementary to this effort are programs in both formal marine education and public information service," he explained. Director of the program is Dr. Sidney P. Upham.

Among projects to be undertaken are: development of a course in marine law as well as in interdisciplinary curriculum leading to the advanced degree of Master of Marine Law and Sciences, under direction of Ole Miss law professor Frank L. Marast and Stephen Gorove.

Survey of certain microbiological organisms in the Bay of St. Louis to determine presence of certain viruses and identification of species of microbes, Dr. Lyman Magee, chairman of Biology at Ole Miss, principal investigator.

Identification and mapping of estuaries off the Gulf Coast which serve as nursery areas for shrimp, fish and other commercial seafoods, and development of land use regulations to protect such areas from encroachment of incompatible development.

Clyde E. Cook, chairman of the Ole Miss Department of Urban and Regional Planning, investigator.

Other projects involve efforts to provide for natural control of algae in ponds, sportfishing survey of Biloxi Bay and Mississippi Sound, design of an underwater reconnaissance vehicle, prediction of ecological alterations caused by pollutants.

In addition, an ambitious public information program will be initiated to develop a marine related public awareness program; seafood preservation and cooking schools; youth fishing schools and outdoor clinics; and marine seminars.

proposed city-county programs. The meeting was scheduled for 7 p.m. in City Hall.

In a recessed meeting Monday afternoon, the board reappointed Donn Murray as assistant county engineer at a salary of $250 per month.

The supervisors appointed county civil defense director Lucien Kidd, Sheriff Sylvan Ladner and beat three supervisor Oscar Peterson to serve on the regional board of the Mississippi Law Enforcement Assistance Division.

An attempt to coordinate civil defense efforts in the county was suggested by board president Dolph Kellar. Kellar stated that he felt that the people would be best served if the civil defense agencies of Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland would join together and form one coordinating agency. Kellar and Lucien Kidd, county CD director agreed to look into the matter.

producing coastline in the country."

Ashman also stated that 42 Gulf Coast organizations and chambers have received copies of the Hancock Chamber resolution asking that they join the movement.

Hancock Chamber director Talmadge Rayburn told of a meeting that day with highway department officials discussing proposed plans for I-10 now under consideration by the department. State laws governing highway signal tourist hospitality booths and other tourist inducements were explained, clarifying the feasibility of some of the steps proposed by the merchants' group.

Rayburn said that James Brownlee, state highway engineer, will come to Bay St. Louis Friday to confer with the Committee regarding their plans.

Following pertinent suggestions from the floor, the consensus was that the problem should be brought to the state level to ascertain what can be done by the coast merchants, and what help can be expected from the state. Members were in agreement that three major steps should be taken to direct tourist traffic to the Coast.

One, a suggestion from August Seaford, is to erect large, prominent signs at I-10 turnoffs designed to lure traffic to the Coast.

Another was to move the tourist hospitality booth, now under contract by the highway department, to a location west of the highway, 607 turnoff, for added impetus to take the Gulf Coast route.

The third suggestion from Delmar Wilcox, was to have Highway 90 re-designated as an I-10 alternate route, as is done in other scenic and recreational areas.

All Chamber representatives as well as supervisors pledged their full support to the project. Dubulson went a step further and said he would urge his Bay St. Louis police chief Robert Goodsell reports 48 calls in the week of Jan. 25 through Feb. 1.

A hot wire broken loose from a power line causing a hazard to traffic was reported by a resident at 806 N. Beach. Ptn. Emmett-Ellis controlled traffic at the scene until power company equipment arrived for repairs.

A breaking and entering was reported at North Bay Elementary School Friday, in which a desk was found pried open, but no articles reported missing.

The theft of a mini-bike at 413 St. John St. is under investigation by Bay police.

Saturday, the operator of F & M Motors Used Car lot on Highway 90 reported the theft of a 1968 Corvette from the lot. The car was described as white over tan with Washington state license plate.

SHERIFF'S REPORTS

A Boston terrier dog, stolen from a Dedeaux resident, was recovered by deputy sheriff James Ladner last week. On Jan. 21, Saul Niolet reported the theft to the sheriff's office, and shortly after, deputy Ladner located the dog in the possession of a 15-year old juvenile.

No injuries resulted from an accident Sunday morning when a pickup truck overturned in a ditch on the Dedeaux-Standard

FIRE PREVENTION

The Fire Prevention Committee of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday night at 7:30 p.m. at the chapter offices on Highway 90.

George Cleary, chairman of the committee, asks that all firemen in the county to attend the meeting. "We have been fortunate this year with practically no grass fires and very few forest fires," Cleary stated, "but we must work harder to make fire prevention meaningful to the people of this area."

HOME HAZARDS

Bay St. Louis Extension Homemakers Club met last Thursday afternoon at the Agriculture Center with Mrs. Sam Niglaszo, president, conducting the business session.

The topic of the month, Hazards in the Home, was discussed.

Each member was asked to bring some of her handwork to the next meeting for exhibit and exchange of ideas.

Following the brief business session with 14 members attending, a social hour was enjoyed with Mrs. Oren Cuevas and Mrs. Herbert Zengaring as hostesses.

Chamber board to give $100 toward the highway sign acquisition, if local financing will be necessary.

In closing the meeting, Kidd announced that the next meeting would be Tuesday, 8 p.m. again at Trapani's at which time progress reports would be given.

Road. Mrs. June Dedeaux was driving the truck about 2:30 a.m., when according to deputy Ladner, she swerved to avoid a collision with an oncoming vehicle, losing control of the truck on the wet road. Although the truck turned over into the ditch beside the road, Ladner said Mrs. Dedeaux escaped unhurt.

Hancock County sheriff Sylvan Ladner said deputies are investigating four cases of illegal entry reported in the area in the past week.

Dr. Charles Cox reported an attempted breaking and entering of his office at 644 Dunbar Ave. in Bay St. Louis. Investigating officers Lathan Garriga and Ronald Peterson said a rear window of the medical clinic had been broken in an apparently unsuccessful attempt to enter the building. No articles were reported missing.

Two cases of breaking and entering were reported in the Shoreline Park subdivision, according to Sheriff Ladner. Beat four constable Sam Periclaro is investigating the Jan. 25 burglary of Mr. Hillman Ladner, who told Periclaro that he had seen a late model green automobile with a California license in the vicinity the evening before he discovered the burglary. According to the deputy's report, the owner said the house must have been entered sometime between 8 p.m. and noon. Articles reported missing were a 16-gauge Winchester shotgun, a portable television set, clothing, jewelry, a blender, coffee pot, mixer, chopping block, and $75 to $100 taken from a broken piggy bank.

Constable Periclaro is also investigating a breaking and entering in the Shoreline Park residence of John Sutherland, Niles and Amoson streets. Sutherland said that entry had been gained through a back window Saturday about 10 a.m., but no articles were taken from the house.

Sheriff's deputies assisted Waveland police in two incidents of reported burglaries. At 9:25 a.m. Friday, the sheriff's office was called concerning a breaking and entering at Gloria's Lounge, Highway 90 in Waveland. Entry was gained through a broken door and the lounge operator reported about $30 in cash stolen from money boxes in the pool table, juke box and cigarette machine. Deputy sheriff James Ladner assisted Waveland Ptn. Don McIntyre in an investigation of the incident.

A cooperative effort among Bay St. Louis police and sheriff's deputies with Waveland police resulted in the recovery of a boat stolen from a Waveland resident Jan. 22.

According to the police report, city commissioner William Frisbie called Bay police at 1:55 p.m. when he saw a young couple attempting to steal a sailboat near 658 S. Beach. Already in possession of a stolen skiff, the couple drove off in a '65 Chevrolet station wagon at his approach. Hearing Deputy Bilbo at 467-4733 or Jim Necaise at 467-7715.

First, second and third place trophies will be given in the Bay police Harris Boudreaux and Alvin Favre, and highway patrolman Clyde Hester and Best Marching Unit. There will be an adult dance the couple was identified as Tracy Bowman and Mrs. Center, after the parade beginning at 9 p.m. until 1:00 a.m. Admission is $5.00 couple, costumes optional.

Waveland Marshal Fred Bourgeois and Ptn. Don McIntyre were called to the sheriff's office where McIntyre identified the small boat as belonging to a Waveland resident. Marshal Bourgeois instructed the couple to return the boat and they were released.

Marshal Bourgeois reported that "nothing has happened in April."

Mississippi Power Makes Tax Payments

A. J. Watson, Jr., president of Mississippi Power Company, said today that the investor-owned utility's franchise payments and taxes for local, state, and federal governments for 1971 amounted to $12.1 million, making the company one of the largest taxpayers in the 23 southeastern Mississippi counties in which it operates. Additionally, customers of the company paid over $1.3 billion in sales taxes on their electric service.

Mr. Watson noted that the company's total tax payments for the year required almost 21 cents out of each dollar of revenue received and were equal to nearly 67 percent of all revenue received from its residential customers.

Corps Includes Local Projects

Local Manager Perry Gibson said that Mississippi Power Company's 1971 ad valorem taxes and franchise payments to Hancock County and its municipalities totaled $133,530.04. The company's ad valorem taxes in the county were $33,315.90. Ad valorem taxes and franchise payments to Bay St. Louis were $38,110.65 and to Waveland were $11,104.09.

Mississippi Power Company's total 1971 municipal and county ad valorem taxes and franchise payments were $5.2 million, of which nearly $4.3 million was for ad valorem taxes on property owned by the utility. Franchise payments totaling in excess of $657,000 were made directly to each city and town in which the company operates.

"The tax and franchise payments by the company reflect, in part, the increase in the area's consumption of electric power and the effect of a continuing program of construction and expansion by Mississippi Power Company to meet these needs," Mr. Watson said.

"They also emphasize the important role of taxpaying businesses and industry in providing part of the financial support vital to the operation of government at all levels," he concluded.

With this screwy weather fishing has been screwy both salt and fresh water fishing has been on the questionable side. Salt water fishing hasn't been too hot while fresh water fishing has been good in spots, where clear water can be found. Caught some green trout and perch the past week. It was warm enough for them to hit on surface baits both on the fly rod and casting rods. The small high that reached our section on the weekend allowed down fresh water fishing quite a bit. Last Wednesday and Thursday fishermen fishing in Bayou La Croix and down Anselway way caught some bass. During February and from then on there will be some good fresh water fishing most any where clear water can be found. Perch are not hitting right now but will improve when warm weather sets in. Brim or perch are plentiful in waters hereabout and can be caught by both still fishing and using artificial baits.

Ever think about making your own earth worm bed. All that is needed is a box put in the ground, lined with screen wire or a tub from an old washing machine. Put soil mixed with old leaves or other mold. Use old coffee grounds or corn meal for food. Dig a few worms for a start. They will multiply at a fast rate. Have your own bait for bass and perch. Another method is using a small web net in most ditches where small crayfish, tadpoles and minnows can be gotten. Lets go fishing the cheap way. It furnishes plenty fun for the kids, too.

Something I picked up which I think is cute: A Fisherman's Prayer: May The Good Lord grant that someday even I might catch a fish...on a make-believe fly!

Speaking of oysters they are still on the fresh side. Opened a sack the other day. Had to salt them down. They taste just like when they are in their own salty water.

John Gennin and John Scaife, Jr. returned to their studies at Old Miss. Sunday. They were home for a week during semester holidays. Both Johns fish, play golf, etc.

King-Schayot Vows Exchanged

Miss Rosary Clair Schayot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Louis Schayot Jr. of New Orleans and Waveland, became the bride of Philip Lee King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leavelle Richard King of Waveland in a double ring ceremony at 11 a. m. December 29 in St. Matthias Church. Rev. C. M. Cazayous, S. J., cousin of the bride, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire A-line gown of silk faced white satin featuring a scoop neckline and a full skirt embellished with Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. A border of matching lace and pearls encircled the hemline and small covered buttons enhanced the back. Her long veil of illusion was held by a small caplet of Alencon lace and pearls and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis, white orchids and holly.

The bride chose as her honor attendant Miss Yvonne Marie Breaux; Misses Carol Henry, Crowley, La.; Andre and Denise Doleac, Hampton, Va.; Collette Breaux, Waveland; Gaynelle and Dale Ritter, Phoenix, La.;

STORK SHOWER
Mrs. Eddie Jennings was honored with a stork shower January 20 in the home of Mrs. Jerry Favre with Mrs. Jake Morreale and Miss Karen Buehler as co-hostesses. A yellow and white color scheme was used in the decorations and gifts were presented from a bassinet. Hostesses received guests wearing "granny" gowns.

The honoree and mothers, Mrs. Pat Rutherford and Mrs. Bill Morreale, were each presented a corsage of miniature baby gadgets.

Fine Print

"The large print giveth, and the small print taketh away." That old joke about insurance policies has often had a good deal of truth in it. Many a crucial clause has been tucked away in typographical obscurity.

But in recent years, the size (sometimes even the color) of the print in insurance policies has been widely regulated by statute.

For example, a common requirement in the field of health insurance is that the exceptions must be printed at least as plainly as the benefits. Take this case.

A man disabled by rheumatism tried to collect on an insurance policy that promised, in large lettering, to pay benefits for six months. But down in the fine print, the policy cut the payments to only one month for certain diseases - including rheumatism.

Was the man bound by the one-month limitation? A court decided that he was not. Because of the substantial size of the print, said the court, that part of the policy simply had no legal effect.

Even if the print is large enough, it will ordinarily not carry as much weight as language that is typewritten or handwritten into the policy.

Another case involved a life insurance policy in which the words "Double Indemnity For Fatal Accidents" had been inserted by typewriter.

Later, double indemnity was held to be payable, even though there was conflicting language in the printed portion of the policy. The court said that words specially inserted were more likely to be correct than words buried in a standard form.

Of course, anything that clarifies an insurance policy also puts a greater responsibility upon you as the policyholder. The clearer the policy, the less grounds you have for arguing that you did not understand it.

An American Bar Association public service feature by Will Bernard.

THE RIVERS

Carrollton, Mississippi, was chosen as the location for the filming of William Faulkner's novel, The Rivers, in 1968. The film starred Steve McQueen. The story of the novel was set in Mississippi at the turn of the century. Some of the scenes were shot along Greenwood's River Road and the levee. The film company had to do little more than cover the streets with sand and build a false front around one service station to take Carrollton back to 1900 - Source: A Tourist Guide to History in Carroll & Leflore Counties, Mississippi. We've checked the company that makes it.
We've checked to be sure the product is all the package says it is.

Just tell your A&P store manager. He'll give you your money back.
We'll get in touch with that company for you...and for us.
That's A&P's guarantee.

UNDER LAW

"Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap. Let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges. Let it be written in primers, spelling books and in almanacs. Let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls and enforced in courts of justice. And, in short, let it become the political religion of the nation."
